Dear Red Cross Disaster Action Team Volunteer,

We are delighted to welcome you to the Kittitas County Chapter and to the American Red Cross team of people who have dedicated their time to assisting others.

The Kittitas County Chapter of the American Red Cross provides emergency food, clothing and shelter to victims of disaster. We also support emergency workers, usually through canteening services, during search and rescue operations, structure fires, large scale transportation accidents and other emergency situations. Additional disaster services may be available depending on verified, disaster-caused needs. All disaster assistance provided by the Red Cross is free of charge.

The Disaster Action Team (DAT) is charged with the initial response for most, if not all, disaster events. Each DAT has 3 members including a leader. Our DAT is responsible for providing coverage 24 hours a day, seven days a week within the chapter's jurisdiction.

This Disaster Action Team manual is for you to keep. It will prove to be a valuable resource during your career as a Red Cross Disaster Action Team volunteer, detailing the standards and guidelines that employees and volunteers must follow in the pursuit of our common cause.

We encourage you to read through the manual carefully so you are familiar with the policies and procedures that lend a hand to our success. If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to consult your supervisor.

Again, thank you for becoming a Red Cross Disaster Action Team volunteer. Without the help of our volunteers, the Red Cross would not exist and our clients and community would not receive the vital services they need. There are not enough ways for us to show our deep appreciation to our dedicated volunteers. I know that you will find great satisfaction as a part of the greatest humanitarian organization in the world. Thank you all for helping us to carry on the mission of the American Red Cross!

Sincerely,

Jenny Carkner Executive Director Kittitas County Chapter American Red Cross

Fundamental Principles of the International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement

Humanity

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, born of a desire to bring assistance without discrimination to the wounded on the battlefield, endeavors, in its international and national capacity, to prevent and alleviate human suffering wherever it may be found. Its purpose is to protect life and health and to ensure respect for the human being. It promotes mutual understanding, friendship, cooperation and lasting peace amongst all peoples.

Impartiality

It makes no discrimination as to nationality, race, religious beliefs, class or political opinions. It endeavors to relieve the suffering of individuals, being guided solely by their needs, and to give priority to the most urgent cases of distress.

Neutrality

In order to continue to enjoy the confidence of all, the Movement may not take sides in hostilities or engage at any time in controversies of a political, racial, religious or ideological nature.

Independence

The Movement is independent. The National Societies, while auxiliaries in the humanitarian services of their governments and subject to the laws of their respective countries, must always maintain their autonomy so that they may be able at all times to act in accordance with the principles of the Movement.

Voluntary Service

It is a voluntary relief movement not prompted in any manner by desire for gain.

Unity

There can be only one Red Cross or one Red Crescent Society in any one country. It must be open to all. It must carry on its humanitarian work throughout its territory.

Universality

The International Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement, in which all Societies have equal status and share equal responsibilities and duties in helping each other, is worldwide.

INTRODUCTION

The Disaster Services/Emergency Services Department of the Kittitas County Chapter of the American Red Cross has organized disaster action teams (DATs) to ensure that trained Red Cross employees and volunteers can respond within two of being notified a disaster event. Disaster action teams provide immediate, identifiable emergency services to those affected by disaster. In addition to initiating Red Cross disaster relief, DATs determine the need for mobilizing additional chapter resources that may be needed.

This manual provides an overview of the responsibilities and activities that result in effective and efficient disaster action team responses. This document discusses:

- Responsibilities
- Member qualifications
- Disaster action team activities
- Member training
- Team equipment and attire
- Team member personal conduct
- Team notification and alerting
- Response procedures

The information in this document applies to all Kittitas County Chapter individuals responsible for or performing disaster action team duties under the American Red Cross Disaster Services Program. The American Red Cross uses the following definition of disaster in determining its Disaster Services Program:

A disaster is a threatening or occurring event of such destructive magnitude and force as to dislocate people, separate family members, damage or destroy homes and injure or kill people. A disaster produces a range and level of immediate suffering and basic human needs that cannot be promptly or adequately addressed by the affected people, and impedes them from initiating and proceeding with their recovery efforts. Natural disasters include floods, tornadoes, hurricanes, typhoons, winter storms, tsunamis, hail storms, wildfires, windstorms, epidemics and earthquakes. Human-caused disasters, whether intentional or unintentional, include residential fires, building collapses, transportation accidents, hazardous materials releases, explosions and domestic acts of terrorism.

TEAM COMPOSITION

Disaster action teams are comprised of a single disaster action team leader and several disaster action team members. The disaster action team leader serves as coordinator of and provides leadership for other team members. The disaster action team concept is intended to place trained Red Cross volunteers on the scene of a disaster within minutes. The responding disaster action team volunteer makes an initial assessment and calls for additional help as needed. The support and resources of the entire chapter are available to disaster action team members when they respond to an incident.

The local table of organization for the disaster action teams is (from top to bottom): Director of Disaster Services/Emergency Services → disaster action team leader → disaster action team members.

The first disaster action team member to arrive serves as the on-scene coordinator for the Red Cross response until relieved by the disaster action team leader or a higher ranking member from the Disaster Services/Emergency Services Department. Additional chapter resources can be requested through Jenny Carkner, (509)929-0331. If Jenny is unavailable, the next person to contact is Liesl Jones, Program Specialist, (509)859-2170.

ATTIRE

All Red Cross disaster workers must wear attire that is professional, appropriate for the task at hand and clearly identifies them as Red Cross disaster relief workers while on duty as part of disaster response.

At a minimum, disaster action team members' attire should be unambiguously identified with the appropriate Red Cross logo and signature. Every effort should be made to ensure that attire will not confuse either the public or local officials. Uniforms or other insignia which might cause confusion should not be worn on disaster action team responses. In addition, the following items should not be worn:

- Tight or revealing garments, including short-shorts, halter tops, see-through garments and bathing suits.
- Garments or accessories bearing offensive or inappropriate slogans.
- Garments bearing product endorsement.
- Thongs, flip-flops or any other footwear that is unsafe, unprofessional or inappropriate for disaster tasks.
- Torn or dirty clothing.
- Fishnet reflective vests in colors other than red or white.

PERSONAL CONDUCT

Disaster action team members shall read and sign the Red Cross Code of Conduct, and they shall abide by the Fundamental Principles of the Red Cross stated at the beginning of this document. Prior to beginning work, a background check is required of all employees and volunteers.

American Red Cross name badges and apparel should be removed when a disaster action team member is not on-duty and should never be worn while engaging in any activity that may reflect adversely on the American Red Cross, including, but not limited to, engaging in illegal activity or in political activities. Red Cross disaster workers are considered on-duty at any time they are engaged in official activities on behalf of a Red Cross disaster response. This on-duty definition applies exclusively to attire and identification standards. It does not create or negate other statutory or corporate definition of on-duty with respect to eligibility for worker's compensation, benefits and/or liability coverage for activities.

The possession of weapons (guns, knives, clubs, explosive devices, etc.) is strictly prohibited in the workplace, including any Red Cross identified vehicle or building.

NOTIFICATION AND ALERTING

The first step of any response to a disaster is learning that the disaster has occurred. For many disasters, this is not a problem. The Red Cross may learn of disasters from radio and television news or from people that live in the affected area and report the incident directly. But single-family disasters rarely produce public notice, and the Red Cross must establish and maintain a network that ensures that it receives timely notification that such disasters have occurred.

In the event of an emergency, local fire and emergency responders are instructed to call the chapter emergency number. During normal business hours Kittitas County Chapter, calls are answered by daytime employees who deploy available daytime disaster action team workers to the scene. During after-hours, phone calls are routed to the DAT phone (509)929-4230.

Disaster action teams are responsible for responding to disaster incidents and providing for basic needs. The main objective of a disaster action team response is to provide the minimum level of assistance. The minimum level of assistance is defined as the baseline amount of assistance that a Red Cross unit is expected to make available to people affected by disasters in its jurisdiction as stated in Red Cross policy. The minimum level of assistance meets the very basic needs that are required for individuals to sustain life. Items required to meet the minimum level of assistance include food, clothing, toilet articles, shelter and health needs.

The following items are located in the chapter and can be distributed to disaster clients:

- Comfort Kits
 - Several bags of comfort kits are pre-made and stored in the store room in the back of the Red Cross office. Disaster comfort kits should be given to each person affected by the disaster. Each comfort kit has basic necessities such as a toothbrush, toothpaste and soap. The items are obtained from local donations or are Red Cross standard comfort kits purchased by the chapter. If a comfort kit is provided, this should be noted on the client's case record.
- Clean-Up Kits
 - Disaster clean-up kits are stored in the store room in the back of the Red Cross office. A clean-up kit includes a broom, squeegee, mop and cleaning products. Clean-up kits can be provided to families if their damage is repairable or to prevent any additional damage to their belongings. The clean-up kits should only be given if the family will be cleaning in the home, and this will allow them to return. If a clean up kit is provided, this should be noted on the client's case record.

Disaster action team members are dispatched to a disaster scene by a disaster action team leader/captain or disaster action team coordinator. Disaster action team members may NOT self-dispatch to any incident. Disaster action team workers arriving at an incident who were not dispatched by the appropriate persons will not be given an assignment and may also be subject to disciplinary actions for self-dispatching.

Upon initial notification to respond, the team leader will notify the on-call Public Affairs representative prior to departure, if the following circumstances exist:

• The media are in route to or on the scene.

- The disaster is a multi-unit fire or affects more than five families.
- The disaster involves a serious injury or death.
- Hazardous materials (Hazmat) are involved.
- A shelter or canteen service is requested.
- Circumstances arise that the team leader or responders determine to be out of the normal and that may generate media attention or greater than normal public interest.

If the team leader or responders arrive on the scene and observe any of the above conditions and have not previously notified the on-call Public Affairs representative, they should do so before beginning the response. If approached by the media, the team leader should request that the media wait for the arrival of the Public Affairs representative so that the team can focus on the client(s). If the media insist on immediate input from the Red Cross, then the team leader should act as the single point of contact and provide a concise, factual account of the Red Cross purpose and participation at the disaster scene. Remember, all detailed information regarding the client is confidential. DO NOT REVEAL specific information about the client at any time without the client's written permission.

RESPONSE

All calls should be responded to in the shortest amount of time possible. The Red Cross requires that a Red Cross representative make contact with the people affected by the disaster within two hours of being notified of the incident. Team leaders should start completion of an incident report upon notification of every incident.

The team leader will determine what resources are taken to the disaster site. The initial response may be made to determine the need for additional resources and the Disaster Services/ Emergency Services Director may be called for assistance. If additional resources are needed, contact Jenny Carkner at (509)929-0331.

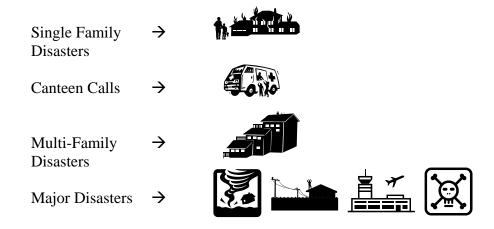

The disaster action team leader will determine if the team will meet at the Red Cross chapter or at a central location near the scene. In the case of a Hazmat incident, the disaster action team leader will contact appropriate officials to determine a safe area for meeting clients or providing canteen services. No Red Cross representative should report to the scene alone. A minimum of two people is required for all responses.

STANDARD OPERATING PROCEDURES

The on-call disaster action team leader is to pick up the cell phone and/or pager, disaster action team handbook and disaster action team kit by 3:00pm the day he or she starts on-call duty. You should re-stock the disaster action team kit before your shift.

Turn on the cell phone and/or pager to check that it is working and leave it on until it is returned. The on-call disaster action team leader should carry the cell phone continuously once it is picked up. The cell phone and/or pager, disaster action team handbook and disaster action team kit should be returned on the last day of on-call duty by 12:00pm along with either a verbal or written summary of any incidents that occurred during the shift.

When you receive a call for service, you must determine the type of response needed and inform the appropriate chapter leadership personnel. Most calls fall within the following four categories:

SOP: Single Family Disaster

Call back the original caller only if necessary for additional information. Your initial information will most likely be just an address. Call out the on-call disaster action team and ensure that at least two people are available to respond to the address as quickly as possible (should be no more than two hours). Be sure to wear your Red Cross ID.

The people affected by the disaster are our first priority. Canteen operations are conducted after the clients' emergency disaster-caused needs have been met.

- 1. Upon arriving, report to the incident commander or ranking fire official. Make a damage inspection from the exterior of the building.
- 2. Have the incident commander introduce you to the family. Identify yourself and inform them that you are there to help them determine what kind of assistance they may need.
- 3. Conduct the initial interview. Visit with the family to determine their immediate disaster-caused needs, identify their personal resources for recovery, work with them to create a recovery plan and provide appropriate Red Cross assistance. Record detailed information on the client's case record. Use the Standardized Emergency Assistance Price List and the following guidelines for issuing assistance.
- 4. Personal hygiene items. Issue one comfort kit for each person affected. They are unisex. Remind parents to remove razors from their children's comfort kits. Record the number issued on the client's case record.
- 5. Medical needs. If the client has emergency medical needs such as life sustaining prescriptions, oxygen, eyeglasses, etc., call the call the Disaster Services/Emergency Services Department leadership, Jenny Carkner (509)929-0331. If Jenny is unavailable, the next person to contact is Joanie Taylor (509)899-2257.
- 6. Issue the Client Assistance Card and/or Disbursing Order. A Client Assistance Card is a MasterCard® that can be loaded with a specific dollar amount. The client can use the Client Assistance Card at any merchant that accepts MasterCard®. Disbursing Orders are paper vouchers that can be filled out and used as a check at a specific vendor for a specific dollar amount and are provided when a hotel/motel stay is needed. The Disbursing Order is a four-part form that is used to provide individual assistance to disaster victims. Disbursing Orders are written as non-cash grants for the purchase of goods for standardized items and prices.

Activate the Client Assistance Card using the Client Assistance System or call the online activation person for the chapter (509)929-0331 or (509)859-2170. This call must be made before leaving the client. The client's signature is needed on the authorization form.

Note: Never cross out any words written on a Disbursing Order. If you need to void a Disbursing Order, follow the procedures in the Client Casework Handbook, task #16 "Void or cancel a Disbursing Order.". Put all copies of the voided Disbursing Order in the case file; do not tear up.

7. Follow-up appointment. Provide a "Disaster Caseworker" business card and instruct the client to telephone a disaster caseworker at (509)925-5866 the next morning.

You should notify the Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership.

SOP: Canteen Calls

Call back the original caller only if necessary to obtain essential information. Respond to the address as quickly as possible (should be no more than two hours). Be sure to wear your Red Cross ID.

The people affected by the disaster are our first priority. Canteen operations are conducted after the clients' emergency disaster-caused needs have been met.

Call in a food order to Super 1 (509)962-7770. Pick up food at Super 1 and charge to Red Cross account. Respond to the canteen location and begin providing snacks and drinks to the emergency workers and people affected by the disaster.

For larger fires, you may not have enough supplies. It is imperative that you update the Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership, Jenny Carkner (509)929-0331. If Jenny is unavailable, the next person to contact is Liesl Jones (509)859-2170. Once canteening has been established, it should never be stopped or interrupted until the incident is over, the Incident Commander (IC) makes other arrangements or if the situation is determined to be unsafe. The Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership can arrange for additional supplies, workers and resources (like the emergency response vehicle).

 It is expected that the local disaster action team will support canteen operations in its response area until the relief operation is completed. Local disaster action teams should not abandon disaster action team members from other areas that have come to help. **

If communication is a problem, most fire or police personnel on the scene will relay a message through their dispatcher for you.

Note: Plan for the supplies you will use. Always request supplies before you think they will be needed. It is better to err on the side of over response.

The on-call Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership (509)929-0331 should be contacted before responding to ANY canteening incident. If the on-call leadership person does not respond, call Liesl Jones (509)859-2170.

SOP: Multi-Family Disasters

Should you receive a call for a fire with 3 or more units, notify the Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership Jenny Carkner, (509)929-0331 immediately for response guidance. If the Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership is unavailable, contact Liesl Jones, (509)859-2170.

- For Smaller Apartment Fires (Up to Two Units) Typically for smaller apartment fires, the response is handled similar to a single family fire: complete a client case record for each family, making sure needs are addressed for emergency food, clothing and shelter.
- For Larger Apartment Fires (Three or More Units) -
 - 1. Locate the apartment owner/manager. The apartment/manager may have already reported to the scene. Find out if any units are available in the complex to relocate the fire clients temporarily. If apartment owner/manager not reported, ask if the fire department has contacted them.
 - 2. Locate as many residents as possible and see who needs emergency shelter. In incidents involving 10 or more people, a congregate shelter may be established. Consult the Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership for response guidance.
 - 3. Complete an On-Site Detailed Damage Assessment Worksheet (F5739). List each unit, in numerical order, on a separate line. In most instances, the apartment manager has a list of units and their occupants. They may also have some preliminary damage assessment information. Validate any assessment information you are given from a non-Red Cross source.

Note: Red Cross damage assessment is conducted from the exterior of the building. It is not required nor expected of you to enter the building and do a "walk through." Many times it is unsafe. Emergency workers and apartment owners cannot grant legal permission for you to enter individual living units. You may, with the escort of the fire department and permission of the apartment manager, walk the common hallways if safe to do so to gain more accurate information.

You can make additional notes on the damage assessment form. Helpful notes include post disaster location or contact information for the victims, special needs, etc.

4. Casework process begins. Depending on how many residents are affected, time of day and availability of local caseworkers, the rest of the process will be determined at the time of the incident. Options could include opening a service center, conducting casework at the fire scene, etc. Consult with the Disaster Services/Emergency Services Director for guidance on any further process.

Disaster action team volunteers must work in coordination with the Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership to activate additional supplies, workers and resources if necessary. Disaster action team leaders/captains are responsible for coordinating responses within their county until leadership and direction of the relief operation is assumed by the chapter's emergency operations center or Director of Disaster Services/Emergency Services. All disaster action team members responding to the incident are to support the efforts of the local disaster action team leader.

Contact the on-call Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership before responding to ANY multi-family incident.

SOP: Major Disasters

Contact the on-call Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership Jenny Carkner, (509)929-0331 before responding to ANY major disaster incident. If the on call Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership person does not respond, call Liesl Jones (509)859-2170.

Call Inland Northwest Chapter at (509)385-3310 if Emergency Services Leadership from Kittitas County Chapter is not available. Email esadmin@spokaneredcross.org

Response to a large incident is usually somewhat confusing; information rapidly changes during the initial stages. The chapter will establish an emergency operations center according to the chapter's disaster plan to initiate a large scale response if necessary.

Cell phones and pager systems usually become overloaded, you may experience communication break downs. Expect this and have a contingency plan for reporting back before responding to the scene.

Disaster action team leaders/captains are responsible for coordinating responses within their area until leadership and direction of the relief operation is assumed by the chapter's emergency operations center or the Director of Disaster Services/Emergency Services. All disaster action team members responding to the incident are to support the efforts of the local disaster action team leader.

Typically, the initial disaster action team responding to the scene will locate the Incident Commander (IC) at the disaster site, let him or her know that a Red Cross representative has arrived and identify the most pressing immediate needs. It is not uncommon for requests to be made of the Red Cross for services we do not offer. Emergency personnel are often unaware of the particulars of the services we do not offer.

The initial disaster action team member on scene will make an independent assessment of the situation as quickly as possible and report back to the on call Disaster Services/Emergency Services leadership person. Disaster action team members must work in coordination with Disaster Services/ Emergency Services leadership to activate additional supplies, workers and resources if necessary.

FOLLOWING THE RESPONSE

If an emergency response vehicle or other chapter vehicle was used, the driver should complete the beginning mileage, ending mileage and purpose of the trip upon returning to the chapter. Check for personal items in the vehicle. Remove all trash, paper cups, wrappers, used paper, etc., from the vehicle. Return the keys to their proper location. Clean and dry any used equipment and restock the vehicle as required.

Completed client case records and incident report forms must be submitted to the chapter no later than the morning of the next business day. This will allow chapter staff and volunteer caseworkers to follow up and provide additional assistance to clients immediately.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The relationship between the Red Cross and the persons who come to us for service is confidential. Safeguarding this relationship is an essential part of the organization's obligation to the people and communities we serve. The principles of confidentiality will be observed by all Red Cross employees and volunteers in obtaining, protecting and releasing information about clients, recognizing that such information is given to workers as representatives of the Red Cross and is to be used only for the purpose of providing Red Cross services. The Red Cross complies voluntarily with the spirit of the Privacy Act of 1974.

All information obtained under the client-agency relationship is considered confidential. The term "client" as used in these regulations refers to any individual or family who seeks Red Cross assistance in recovering from a disaster. A client relationship is established by the individual's or family's contact with the Red Cross, whether or not any assistance is given.

The Red Cross caseworker should request no additional information other than what will be needed for the service that may be given. Citizenship is not a pre-requisite for Red Cross disaster assistance; clients will not be questioned about their citizenship status, nor asked to produce birth certificates, immigration papers, passports, social security cards or similar documents that could be interpreted as being used to identify the nationality or immigration status of persons seeking Red Cross assistance.

The Red Cross must have written consent for the release of specific information to a specific agency or written evidence that the individual or family has given such agency or agencies permission to request that information from the Red Cross.

SAFETY

All employees and volunteers must make it priority to drive safely and must obey all traffic regulations when responding to disaster incidents—we are not first responders. The chapter will not pay for fines or citations. Red Cross policy requires the use of seat belts and prohibits smoking in Red Cross vehicles at all times. Never drive over fire hoses or downed power lines. Make sure the vehicle is parked in a safe location. If damage occurs to one of the chapter vehicles, notify the authorities immediately. There is an accident reporting toolkit in each chapter vehicle. After everyone is safe, notify the Disaster Services/Emergency Services

Director. Proper documentation for driving a Red Cross vehicle needs to be on file in the volunteer file. The emergency response vehicle requires specialized training. The Red Cross insurance will not cover the use of a personally-owned vehicle.

If a volunteer is hurt while responding, seek appropriate emergency medical assistance and notify the Disaster Services/Emergency Services Director.

Disaster action team members are issued photo identification. This ID must be worn at all times during the disaster action team call. If a disaster action team member loses an ID, notify the disaster services office immediately.

Unauthorized personnel are not allowed at the disaster scene, including family and friends of Red Cross employees and volunteers.

RESOURCES

Remember you are never alone and you can always call for assistance. Disaster Services/ Emergency Services leadership is available to answer any questions and provide assistance as required. Call the chapter's 24-hour number at (509)929-0331 to receive assistance or to ask questions.

Thank you for being the vital part of helping people survive disasters and the mission of the American Red Cross.
