Hi Mark,

I've been talking to a lot of people over the strategy of dealing with DOE. Short from saying, "I give up", I think it is in the best interest of your constituents to withdraw the AG opinion and try to get DOE to accept the new emergency rule with minor revisions. In principal, I completely agree and appreciate your stance in protecting our property rights. However, this is not the time that the citizens can afford to follow through without giving up everything else. I'm in no way agreeing with DOE and their position, but I do feel at their mercy.

Thank you,
