I saw a lighter colored rectangle shape that looked like it could be a roof for something down towards the bottom of the parcel near the lot line. If there are no structures then I don't have a concern.

I guess I'm not seeing a structure, can you point it out?... the proposed line is the John Wayne Trail/old railroad line

Jeff,

It appears there is an existing structure near where the proposed line will be. Is that a structure that might have a well or drainfield?
