Bradley,

Thank you for the opportunity to provide comment on this short plat application.

The site plan provided appears to show a corner of an existing shed on the proposed parcel boundary line. The note states "Shed to be moved." The shed would need to be moved prior to the short plat to remain compliant with the Fire Separation requirements of the Washington State International Residential code. Additionally, if the shed is over 200 square feet and/ or contains any habitable space, mechanical systems or plumbing, a building permit would be required to relocate the structure.
